NEWSLETTER NOTE

Supporting Your Colleagues

- It is essential to help develop your musical appreciation and improve your networking skills as a professional that you support as many of the Studio's other performers as possible.
- As performers, we are all familiar with the positive energy created together when in front of an appreciative audience— take every opportunity to participate in the audience when your friends and colleagues are performing.
- While we are all busy with numerous activities, please make the extra effort to attend the performances of your fellow Studio members whenever you can.
- Support your fellow performers... the audience you enhance will one day be your own!

Yours in singing,

Andrea Bertram
